COPYRIGHT STATEMENT

The copyright law of the United States (Title 17, United States Code) governs the making of photocopies or other reproductions of copyrighted materials including foreign works under certain conditions. In addition, the United States extends protection to foreign works by means of various international conventions, bilateral agreements, and proclamations.

Under certain conditions specified in the law, libraries and archives are authorized to furnish a photocopy or other reproduction. One of these specified conditions is that the photocopy or reproduction is not to be "used for any purpose other than private study, scholarship, or research." If a user makes a request for, or later uses, a photocopy or reproduction for purposes in excess of "fair use," that user may be liable for copyright infringement.

The Columbia University Libraries reserve the right to refuse to accept a copying order if, in its judgement, fulfillment of the order would involve violation of the copyright law.

REPORT.

In accordance with the Resolution passed at the last Convention of the National Association, we herewith send you the Report of the Secretary and Treasurer of the finances, up to September 1st, 1857. The Reports of the Local Secretaries generally speak of trade being unusually dull during the past year, but the organizations are well kept up throughout; but many of the Secretaries give us very imperfect reports in regard to the number of Men and Apprentices, and no report of any kind from Boston since the meeting of the last Convention. We would, therefore, suggest that the Local Secretaries refer to Article 12th of By-Laws of the National Association.
